

PGIC-1 2017: Call for Papers

The 1st Post Graduate Informatics Conference (PGIC-1)

March 19, 2017, Benha, Egypt.

PGIC is a semiannual conference, which showcases state-of-the-art R&D activities in informatics sciences and their applications. It provides a forum for technical presentations and discussions among post graduate students, and researchers. The conference brings researchers together, encourages the exchanges of ideas and information, and provides a unique opportunity to present and observe the latest research, results and ideas in these areas.

PGIC seeks to promote research that carries a strong conceptual message (e.g., introducing a new concept or model, opening a new line of inquiry within traditional or interdisciplinary areas, or introducing new techniques or new applications of known techniques). PGIC welcomes all submissions, whether aligned with current theory of computation research directions or deviating from them. PGIC will be held in Faculty of Computers & Informatics, Benha University, Benha, Qalyubia Governorate, Egypt.
